S-unno (formerly MediaRing Talk)

S-unno is a simple yet powerful tool that allows you to call your friends and family using an instant messaging service of your choice. This free software application allows you to organize meetings and conferences and communicate with your contacts using a variety of audio and video chat options.

Call: It is possible to call your friends and family members and groups with a variety of popular instant messaging services (MSN, Yahoo, Google, Skype, etc.). You can also make international calls, too. You can also forward your incoming calls and add them to your call log.

Conference Call: You can set up the program to automatically create a conference call when you invite a buddy to join a conference. The group can either be voice only or both voice and video. You can also select a specific length for each participant's talk. When the call ends, you can initiate a conference call between two or more buddies using a single click.

Chat: It is possible to chat with your contacts using audio or video options and by using the keyboard or even the mouse. In addition to the voice and video chat options, you can use screen sharing and application sharing to make or receive calls while working on a document or PowerPoint presentation.

Audio Tuning: The application allows you to fine-tune audio and video settings, such as sample rate, volume, encoder, compression, jitter buffer, echo cancellation and sound.

Status: You can change your status to one of six options, such as away, idle, busy, dnd and online. You can also assign a custom status.

Pings: S-unno allows you to send and receive pings. These are messages that allow you to determine whether a buddy is available and online at the moment.

Log: It is possible to review your chat session logs and access your call logs.

Sound Alerts: When you receive a new message, sound alerts can be enabled so that you can notify you when your friends come online or offline.

Picture: You can set an image to be displayed as your account icon. This is a BMP, PNG, JPEG or GIF file.

Styles: S-unno allows you to select the font you want to use. You can also set font colors and adjust their sizes.
