Evolynx RADIUS Load Test Utility Key features: -... Does Automation of repetitive tasks sound like a good thing to you? Would you like to use an unfamiliar technology and learn new skills at the same time? For some people, the answer is "Yes!". For others, it may depend on several factors. If you are one of these people and you want to automate repetitive tasks - the last thing on your mind is technology. You simply do the thing one by one, never giving technology a second thought - because that's how you've always done it. You've probably come across and article that shows how people use technologies like AutoIt to automate repetitive tasks. What you do not see is how those same people have made it work for them in the first place. It's a bit like talking to a deaf person about wind....
