José Luís Mello José Luís Lopes Mello (born 15 August 1956) is a Portuguese academic economist and former Minister of Education. As Minister of Education, he was responsible for revamping the curriculum and systems for higher education, the Portuguese language and the system of the School of Mathematics and Sciences, resulting in the Bologna Process and the redesign of the history syllabus. Mello is currently a member of the board of directors of the World Economic Forum. He is also a member of the board of directors of the International Institute of Business and Social Studies. He is the author of several published books, such as Bologna: Verso a Utopia?, Bologna: A Learning Process?, and Pedagogía e estrutura curricular. He is also a member of the European Advisory Board of the Council of Europe and a member of the International Advisory Council of the National University of Distance Education. Education Mello studied economy at the University of Trás-os-Montes e Alto Douro (UTAD), in the city of Vila Real, in the western part of the country. He graduated with a Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree and he later obtained a Master of Arts (MA) degree. Career In the 1980s, Mello worked in the public service of the Portuguese Government. During this time, he was a technical adviser for the Ministry of Education, being responsible for coordination activities of specific ministries, such as the Ministry of Health. In 1993, he defended his PhD in economics at the University of Trás-os-Montes e Alto Douro, where his research was focused
