I've got a function which needs to call the same function but with different arguments. void foo(String text, int (*func)(int)) { // call func(2) and func(4) } void bar(int a, int b) { int (*func_a)(int); int (*func_b)(int); foo("", func_a); foo("", func_b); func_a = func_b; } Now, is this design okay? Do you know if there's a name for this pattern, or if there's a better way to do what I want to do? Thanks. A:
