XML Editors: Best of 2015.In the wake of the devastation wrought by Typhoon Haiyan, Hishinuma Kimiko opened the Hishinuma Agency and became a vocal advocate for the use of traditional architecture, with her designs firmly rooted in her rich heritage and location. Originally from Miyagi Prefecture, Kimiko attended a local college at the age of 12. It wasn't until she came to Kyushu to attend university that she realized how much of her culture and tradition was being lost. In 2012, Kimiko began working with the Ashiu Foundation, an organization devoted to revitalizing the culture of Kyushu in Japan. An avid passion for Kyushu's traditional architecture lead her to
