Fun is serious business at Uchikukuri Kurasode is a classic game for children, and one of the most addictive games for adults. Play at your own pace, and get high as you jump to avoid your enemies! Let's play Uchikukuri once more!Q: Is there any way to limit the size of submitted form? Hi I am using Wicket and GWT for developing web application. I have a text box in my page. How can I restrict the size of textbox to 50 characters only. Because some other input elements get trimmed in GWT A: Wicket doesn't provide any hooks for this. The text you type is rendered as HTML by Wicket - a Wicket component itself doesn't know what to do with text of arbitrary length. The solution is to intercept the text component as it is getting rendered and then put up a fixed size text component. For example, this can be done in an EditorCell: public class MinWidthCellEditor extends EditorCell { private static final long serialVersionUID = 7275778093847670750L; @Override public void renderHead(IHeaderResponse response) { super.renderHead(response); if (getModelObject().getText().isEmpty()) { getOutput().add(new Label("text", "" + getModelObject().getText())); } } } You can configure your text field to use this cell: public class MyPage extends BasePage { private static final long serialVersionUID = 1L; public MyPage() { final TextField textField = new TextField("text", new MinWidthCellEditor()) { private static final long serialVersionUID = 1L; }; add(textField); } } The effect of noscapine on the behavioral-activating effect of cocaine in rats. What's new in Shadowgrounds Survivor:

-oe-o-ne Tuesday, December 31, 2007 as our kiddo is 38 months, we're getting ready for the new year! we've made a new year's celebration just for him. he's still a bit confused about new years, but we're trying to keep it fun. he also doesn't seem to care about holidays, and i assume that it will be a problem when he starts school. he'll just be in the middle of kids. we always start celebrations with a mompaper party, making some crafts, and then of course, some homemade frosting for the cake! when we're done with him, we have a slumber party celebration. we read some books, and then later, it's lights out! jayden jumps in bed with us, and we snuggle and talk 'til we fall asleep! then, the morning after that, we wake up, and start the day with fun activities. we read a few more stories, and then milk a cow. we go back to reading, then add some pretend cooking. we make breakfast for a dog with real food! then we ring in the new year at the local franchise. the place does a great job with the whole thing. they have the whole party written down on how it goes, but i forget everything because it's all so exciting. we stay there from 8:30 - 12:30, and then we get to have lots of free stuff and play games. it's so fun! it'll be a busy month with our new year! we're also doing a harvest festival. we're getting together with some friends and our family. as i was doing some googling about our harvest festival, i came across this article about random breathalyzer tests at the straw bazaar. check it out, it's really interesting. it talks about kids getting tickets (maybe in glasses?!), and questions that you should ask your child. Monday, December 30, 2007 i'd somehow taken the computer out of its case, and when we went to reassemble it, the screen wouldn't work! i asked our kiddo to help put it back together. he got the power cord back in, but then he couldn't get the screen back in. then i got it in, and i started to turn it on. the screen is almost touching the back of the monitor. the brightness levels were all crazy, and it just made me
